READ—

The Annual Municipal Administration Reports for the year 1922-23.

1. The year under review is noteworthy on account of the wholesale revision of Municipal constitutions. The total number of members in every Municipal Committee was carefully revised with due regard to the population as modified by factors such as the existing constitution and the variety of the interests to be represented. The principle of election was introduced or its introduction ordered in 17 out of the 22 Municipal Committees that were wholly nominated; now leaving only 5 such out of the total of 103 Municipal Committees in the Province. The elected element has ordinarily been increased, with the result that in only 8 Municipal Committees it is now less than 75 per cent. In some cases it has been raised to as much as 95 per cent. The official element in Municipal Committees has been reduced as much as possible, it being now very small and largely consisting of educationists and medical men. The wholesale revision of constitutions brought up the necessity of formulating a fixed principle of general application for the distribution of the elected seats on Municipal Committees among the various communities. The problem was to discover a formula which should graft the democratic principle of the Reforms on the concrete facts of municipal administration in the Punjab. The formula adopted was that "the elected seats on municipal committees should be distributed among the communities in proportion to their population as modified arithmetically by their voting strength."

In some Municipal Committees where communal representation did not prevail it was noticed that the wards were so constituted as to place a community with a large majority of voters in the position of a minority whenever elections ran on communal lines. In order to avert this evil, care was taken in such municipalities to see how the wards were constituted, and an attempt made to demarcate wards in such manner as not to place any community at a disadvantage.

At the very commencement of the general reconstitution Government laid it down that communal electorates should not be newly introduced in any Municipality except with a view to remove communal friction or to satisfy a keen local demand on the part of an aggrieved community. In obedience to this principle, communal electorates are being allowed only in 11 Municipalities in addition to the 38 that already existed in January 1921.

Seven general elections to Municipal Committees were held during the year, all of them, except the one in Amritsar, being marked by keen interest arising chiefly from communal rivalry.

2. The working of Municipal Committees continues as in the past to be marred by communal feeling. The advent of the non-co-operation party has not effected improvement in this direction; and the political fervour of its representatives has too often been converted into communal zeal in the arena of local self-government. It is unfortunate that the opposition to non-official presidents should so often be formed on merely communal lines. The Commissioner of Lahore reports that communal feeling has raised a kind of party system and added to the zest of municipal proceedings; but this state of affairs does not indicate a sound political instinct, and is very much to be regretted.

Apart from communal bickerings, routine on the one hand and abstract theory on the other engaged too much attention all over the Province, to the detriment of such matters of practical importance as town improvement and the regulation of the supply of milk and other articles of food.

A reference may here be made to some useful suggestions. The Commissioner of Ambala emphasizes the need of a paid Secretary for each Committee to ensure a proper understanding and observance of the Municipal Account Code. It has also been suggested—and the suggestion will be considered—that in view of technical difficulties and the frequent recurrence of the mistakes pointed out yearly in audit the Examiner of Local Funds should train candidates who could subsequently be employed by municipalities as accountants. The Commissioner of Lahore refers to the tendency on the part of some committees to resort to Government interference. This is perhaps a phase that will disappear when it is realised that in England and other democratic countries the popularization of the Central Government is usually followed by a stricter supervision of local self-government. The suggestion made by the Commissioner of Rawalpindi that each ward member should be held personally responsible for the encroachments that take place in his ward is mentioned for the consideration of municipal committees.

3. Though hampered by disturbances and opposition, compulsory education has been continued at Multan and a few other places, and in the Ambala Division it has been introduced as an experiment in a single ward at Rupar. Financial difficulties are given as the reason for this slow advance. Gojra, however, reports an income from school fees, covering 41 per cent. of its educational expenditure, which goes to show what can be done in this direction.

The reports all re-affirm the unpopularity of the system of levying fees for medicines and medical treatment

4. The main points to be discussed under this paragraph are (1) the fluctuations in the revenue, and (2) the comparative advantages of the octroi and terminal taxes. The reasons given for fluctuations in the revenue during the year vary considerably. The Rawalpindi and Multan Divisions report a general decrease both from octroi and the terminal tax, which is explained by the slump in trade and the boycott of foreign cloth, together with the fall in the value of commodities. The Ambala, Jullundur and Lahore Divisions report a general increase, which is ascribed to the removal of the boycott of foreign cloth, improved trade and improved supervision of the octroi staff. The fact that generally speaking the municipalities in which the terminal tax is in force are in a better financial position than those in which octroi is collected, perhaps indicates that supervision is the most potent factor that governs receipts, the simplicity of procedure for the collection of the terminal tax necessitating far less supervision than in the case of octroi. The comparative advantages of the octroi and the terminal tax, however, still need careful consideration. Lyallpur, which has a large through railway traffic, reports a decrease from the terminal tax of Rs. 13,000, but terminal tax is described in another report as 'involving far less interference and injury to trade than octroi with its objectionable system of refunds.' Moreover, it is worth noting that in Multan the percentage of refunds on octroi rose from Rs. 16-5-8 to Rs. 20-1-1. It has to be borne in mind that the terminal tax is meant to be primarily a tax on rail-borne goods, and its extension to road-borne traffic can be justified only in very exceptional cases.

5. Many committees have large schemes in hand, the majority of which are at a stand-still through lack of funds. Of these, drainage schemes are the most numerous, involving expenditure varying from one to five lakhs in various municipalities.

Committees as a whole have availed themselves freely of the new procedure for applications for loans and have not been behind hand in referring to the Sanitary Board for grants-in-aid and in considering other means of raising money. Of these Multan has been the most ambitious but its schemes do not appear to be proceeding towards completion at a very high speed. Its closing balance of 1927-28 shows a deposit of 11½ lakhs, that still remain to be expended. The advisability of crediting loans piecemeal as required, and the consideration, but in the meantime, municipal

6. Plague was reported from several municipalities. It is satisfactory that the prompt preventive measures taken at Rohtak and Sonapat stamped out the disease. Credit is also due to the Department of Public Health and the local medical officers for stopping the spread of cholera at the Thanesar fair.

Government note with pleasure the names of the many non-officials commended by the Commissioners for able and disinterested work. It is said for example of the Murree Municipal Committee that "the members worked throughout the year in a true spirit of public duty." The following may here be mentioned : -

Chaudhri Shahab-ud-Din, President, Lahore Municipal Committee.

Sir Gopal Das Bhandari, President, Amritsar Municipal Committee.

Sardar Sukha Singh, Member, Gujranwala Municipal Committee.

Sardar Bahadur Malik Mohan Singh, President, Rawalpindi Municipal Committee

Colonel J. Powell, Junior Vice-President, Murree Municipal Committee

Khan Bahadur Sayyid Mehdi Shah, President, Municipal Committee, Gojra.

Sayyid Rajan Bakhsh Shah, Gilani, President, Multan Municipal Committee

Mr. Moti Lal Kaistha, Honorary Secretary, Dharmasala Municipal Committee.

Rai Bahadur Raja Joti Prashad, President, Jagadhri Municipal Committee.

Nawabzada Irshad Ali Khan, President, Karnal Municipal Committee.

Miss Stiffle, Member, Dalhousie Municipal Committee.

Mian Abdul Haye, President, Ludhiana Municipal Committee

Lala Shibdas (since deceased), President, Montgomery Municipal Committee.

And last but not least Government are pleased to place on record their appreciation of the assistance rendered by the Commissioners of Divisions as well as by almost all the Deputy Commissioners of Districts in the difficult and tedious task of reorganizing the constitutions of the municipal committees of the Province.

ORDER.—Ordered that copies of the foregoing remarks be forwarded to all Commissioners of Divisions and Deputy Commissioners in the Punjab, and the Secretary to Government, Punjab, Public Works Department, Buildings and Roads Branch, and be submitted to the Government of India, Department of Education, Health and Lands

Ordered also that the remarks and a translation of them be published in the Punjab Government Gazette, and that copies of the Urdu translation be supplied to Deputy Commissioners for the information of the municipal committees.

By order of the Punjab Government (Ministry of Education),

FAZL-I-HUSAIN,

Minister for Education.

Rs.	Rs. A P.	Rs. A P.
2,42,232	2 10 11	6 14 9	*The difference of Rs. 2,880 is due on account of contribution for Assistant Surgeon during 1921-22—which amount was adjusted after the close of the year.
32,294	2 1 2	3 6 4	† This includes Rs. 900 on account of building grant received late but adjusted in accounts for the year 1922-23.
21,904	2 3 10	2 1 3	‡ According to the Municipal Accounts for 1921-22 the balance ought to be Rs. 43,89,41/-. The difference is partly due to the addition of Abohar Municipality and partly to the inaccurate figures reported by some Municipalities.
